HOME DEPARTMENT.

JAILS.

Camp Delhi ; the 1st January, 1903.

RESOLUTION.

THE Governor General in Council has been pleased to issue orders as follows for the release, as an act of clemency and grace, of a certain number of prisoners, both criminal and civil, and the remission of a portion of the sentences of other prisoners in all the Jails throughout British India, and in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, on the auspicious occasion of the Coronation of the King-Emperor.

2. Local Governments and Administrations have been desired to release on this day 10 per cent. of all the convicts under sentence, provided that their conduct during imprisonment has been good and that their release is not likely to give rise to a revival of blood feuds or professional crime. Under these orders 9,123 offenders will be released. Special consideration has been given to the question of the release of Burmans convicted of dakaiti and similar offences during the disturbances which followed the annexation of Upper Burma and the release of 127 such convicts has been decided on. Apart from the foregoing concession, His Excellency in Council has, as additional measures of clemency and grace, directed the release (1) of 1,238 female convicts whose offences were not of a serious nature ; (2) of 4,909 persons under sentence of one month's imprisonment or less who have on this day worked out half their sentence ; and (3) of 276 persons under sentence of not more than six months' imprisonment, whose offences were more or less attributable to conditions of scarcity. The Governor General in Council has also directed the absolute release of 352 male and female convicts in the Andamans, and the conditional release of 31 convicts under sentence for dakaiti. The total number of convicts of all classes at Port Blair who will be released in connection with the celebration of the Coronation of the King-Emperor will thus be nearly 400.

3. The Governor General in Council has also been pleased to extend a measure of grace and clemency to convicts in Indian Jails who in the interests of society cannot now be released, by directing that they be granted remissions of their punishments, graduated according to the character of the sentence in each case, which may extend to a month's remission for each year of imprisonment passed in Jail. His Excellency in Council has further sanctioned, in the case of all well-behaved convicts in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, certain concessions which will mitigate the severity of their sentences and will improve their prospects of earning further privileges by continued good behaviour.

4. The Governor General in Council has been pleased to order the release of all persons confined in prison in execution of decrees of the Civil Courts whose debts do not exceed the sum of R100, provided that they are poor and not fraudulent ; and the payment by Government of the debt or debts for which they are detained. One hundred and thirty-two civil prisoners will accordingly be discharged, and their debts aggregating Rs. 590 will be paid by Government.

5. The total number of prisoners who will to-day be released from British Jails including the Andamans is 16,188.

JAILS.

Camp Delhi; the 1st January 1903.

RESOLUTION.

No. 1.—The Governor General in Council has been pleased to issue orders as follows for the release, as an act of clemency and grace, of a certain number of prisoners, both criminal and civil, and the remission of a portion of the sentences of other prisoners in all the Jails throughout British India, and in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, on the auspicious occasion of the Coronation of the KING-EMPEROR.

2. Local Governments and Administrations have been desired to release on this day 10 per cent. of all the convicts under sentence, provided that their conduct during imprisonment has been good and that their release is not likely to give rise to a revival of blood feuds or professional crime. Under these orders 9,123 offenders will be released. Special consideration has been given to the question of the release of Burmans convicted of dakaiti and similar offences during the disturbances which followed the annexation of Upper Burma, and the release of 127 such convicts has been decided on. Apart from the foregoing concession, His Excellency in Council has, as additional measures of clemency and grace, directed the release (1) of 1,238 female convicts whose offences were not of a serious nature; (2) of 4,909 persons under sentence of one month's imprisonment or less who have on this day worked out half their sentence; and (3) of 276 persons under sentence of not more than six months' imprisonment, whose offences were more or less attributable to conditions of scarcity. The Governor General in Council has also directed the absolute release of 352 male and female convicts in the Andamans, and the conditional release of 31 convicts under sentence for dakaiti. The total number of convicts of all classes at Port Blair who will be released in connection with the celebration of the Coronation of the KING-EMPEROR will thus be nearly 400.

3. The Governor General in Council has also been pleased to extend a measure of grace and clemency to convicts in Indian Jails who in the interests of society cannot now be released, by directing that they be granted remissions of their punishments, graduated according to the character of the sentence in each case, which may extend to a month's remission for each year of imprisonment passed in Jail. His Excellency in Council has further sanctioned, in the case of all well-behaved convicts in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, certain concessions which will mitigate the severity of their sentences and will improve their prospects of earning further privileges by continued good behaviour.

4. The Governor General in Council has been pleased to order the release of all persons confined in prison in execution of decrees of the Civil Courts whose debts do not exceed the sum of ₹100, provided that they are poor and not fraudulent; and the payment by Government of the debt or debts for which they are detained. One hundred and thirty-two civil prisoners will accordingly be discharged, and their debts aggregating ₹8,590 will be paid by Government.

5. The total number of prisoners who will to-day be released from British Jails, including the Andamans, is 16,188.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, the 31st December 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

A few local showers have been received during the past week in the south of the Peninsula, but fine dry weather has prevailed generally in the greater part of the Peninsula and in the plains of Northern India. A depression from Persia entered North-West India on the 29th and gave light showers in Baluchistan on the 30th and 31st and light to moderate snow in Kashmir on the 20th, 30th and 31st. The precipitation was heaviest on the 31st when falls of snow equivalent to 1.4 inches and 1.05 inches of rain were reported respectively from Sonemarg and Astor in Kashmir. The depression gave no rain in the plains of Upper India with the exception of a few drops at Jacobabad on the 31st.

Cloud increased in Burma at the commencement of the week, and though the pressure conditions failed to indicate any well defined disturbance, the direction of the winds in Central Burma showed that a feeble diffused depression was lying over that region on the 27th and 28th which gave fairly general rain in Upper, Central and Lower Burma, the observer at Lashio reported a very heavy fall of 4.74 inches on the 28th but this may be incorrect. Diamond Island received 1.5 inches the same day. Showers continued in Burma during the next 24 hours and then ceased.

The rainfall of the week was in excess in Burma and normal in Baluchistan and the sub-division of Calicut. Light rain fell in the East Coast (South), but the amount received was in defect of the normal. Amounts averaging less than 0.1 inch were received in the Brahmaputra Valley and the sub-division of Madura.

The rainfall of the period from the 28th November to date has been normal or in excess in the Burma Coast, Burma (Wet), the sub-division of Calcutta, the East Coast, the SUPPLEMENT TO THE GAZETTE OF INDIA, JANUARY 3, 1903.

Satpuras (with the exception of the Raipur sub-division), the West Coast, Gujarat, the Deccan, South India and the sub-division of Indore. The seasonal rainfall has thus been generally normal or in excess in Burma and the Peninsula and in defect over the greater part of Northern India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 27th December, 1902.

Madras.—Rainfall nil in the Deccan, the Nilgiris and parts of the central and southern districts; light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are fair to good. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen.

Bombay.—There was slight rain during the week in parts of Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Belgaum and Kanara. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Hyderabad; by rats in parts of Nasik; by insects in parts of Ahmedabad, Nasik and Bijapur; and by untimely rainfall in parts of Nasik, Sholapur, and Satara; elsewhere they are generally in good condition. Harvesting of autumn crops is completed in Sukkur and Kaira; almost completed in Sholapur; and continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Surat, Khandesh, Carnatic, Kanara, Wadhwan, and Baroda. Threshing continues in parts of Sind, Kolaba, Thana, Nasik, Poona, Satara and Dharwar. Spring sowing is completed in Thar and Parkar and Kolaba; is almost over in Larkana, Ahmedabad, and Baroda; and continues in parts of Sukkur, Ratnagiri and Kanara. Cotton is in good condition in parts of Larkana, Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, and Wadhwan, but is slightly damaged by recent rains in parts of Surat and Dharwar. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Khandesh, Nasik and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and is generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts; risen in five districts; and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were as follows:—Ahmedabad thirty-eight; Sholapur fifty seven; Bijapur fifty-one; Kathiawar thirty-six.

The daily average numbers on relief during the week were:—British Districts—On relief works:—518; dependants nil; in poor-houses 1,345; on village relief 3,623; total on gratuitous relief 4,968. Native States—In poor-houses 157; on village relief nil; grand total 5,643.

Bengal.—Slight showers are reported from a few districts of Lower Bengal and Orissa. The standing spring crops require rain in the districts of Nadia, Champaran, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum. Prospects are generally good. Harvesting of winter rice and pressing of sugarcane are going on. Poppy is doing well. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has fallen in eight districts, risen in three, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—There was no rain during the week, but it is said to be needed in eighteen districts to help the standing crops. Irrigation and weeding are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Locusts appeared in some places in Almora and Bijnor, but no injury is reported. Crops are in good condition except where they have been damaged by insects in parts of the Moradabad and Mainpuri, and by frost in parts of Bijnor, Moradabad, Bareilly, Aligarh, Muttra, Etawah, Farrukhabad, Shahjahanpur, Hardoi, Pilibhit, Kheri, Unao, Cawnpore, Fatehpur, Hamirpur, and Banda. Supplies and fodder are adequate. Prices are generally stationary.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. Cotton picking and sugarcane pressing continue in some districts. The til (Sessamum) crop is being gathered in Mooltan. Sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. The conditions and prospects of the standing crops are generally good so far, but rain is urgently wanted throughout the province for unirrigated spring crops. The sugarcane crop has suffered to some extent by frost in parts of Sialkot. The rape-seed and taramira (Eruca sativa) crops are being damaged in parts of Ferozepore by a caterpillar. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Amritsar, Sialkot, and parts of Mooltan. The prices of food grains are generally unchanged with slight variations in some districts. The price of wheat is rising slightly in Hissar, Jullundur, Rawalpindi, and Shahpur; and is falling in Amritsar.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week, and it is now badly needed for crops on unirrigated lands. Wheat and barley are being sown in Peshawar.

The stocks of food grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable. Water in canals is sufficient, but rivers are still running low in Peshawar. Prices are rising slightly.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Reaping of paddy and other winter crops is in progress and is nearly completed in Thongwa, Henzada, Prome, Shwebo, and other parts of Upper Burma. Threshing has commenced in Akyab, Sandoway, and Thongwa. Cultivation of miscellaneous crops and ploughing for dry weather paddy are in progress. The condition of the standing crops remains the same as reported last week. Island crops are said to have failed in Magwe for want of rain. The rain on the last night of the week was heavy in Thongwa and is expected to have damaged crops on threshing floors in Prome. The price of paddy has risen in Thayetmyo.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been clear and abnormally cold throughout the provinces. Light showers of from 4 to 17 cents have fallen in parts of Raipur. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are now nearly completed, but juar (giant millet) and cotton picking still continue. Some damage to winter crops by frost is reported from the northern districts, particularly Betul and Narsinghpur, where the pulses and also til and cotton have suffered severely; otherwise the standing crops are in good condition, but insects are doing some damage in Raipur, Bilaspur, Chanda, Balaghat, Nagpur, and Hoshangabad. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices show a slight tendency to rise in Betul, elsewhere there have been slight fluctuations. The lowest prices in seers per rupee were—wheat 18; gram 21½; rice 17; and juar 31½. The highest prices were—wheat 11; gram 12½; rice 8½; and juar 18. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—relief workers—(Public Works Department) adults 4,735; children 798; total 5,533. Gratuitous relief—(otherwise relieved) adults 3,468; children 1,379; total 4,847. Total on all forms of relief 10,380. The number of Public Works Department camps open is 11.

Assam.—The weather is cold. Slight rain has fallen in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia hills. Rain is wanted for mustard in Lakhimpur. Harvesting of late rice, pruning of tea, and pressing of sugarcane are in progress. The outturn of rice is good in Cachar and fair in other places, except Nowgong and in parts of Kamrup. Prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet, fair in Cachar and Darrang; but poor elsewhere. Gathering of pulse has commenced in Darrang and Lakhimpur. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia hills. Prices—Common rice—Silchar, Sylhet, Gauhati, and Tezpur 14; Nowgong and Sibsagar 12; Dibrugarh 11½; and Dhubri 11 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—There was good rain in Kadur during the week. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food grains are stationary and fodder is sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool. Picking of cotton and cutting of juar are well advanced. The winter crops are in good condition except in Melghat taluq, where tur (cajan pea) and grain have been damaged by insects. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are fluctuating.

Hyderabad.—Report not received.

Rajputana.—Agricultural operations and standing crops are the same as reported last week. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price in seers per rupee was:—Kotah 36; and the highest Sirohi 14½. There were 639 persons on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—Slight rain fell in parts of Gwalior during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition, but have been slightly damaged in Indore. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. Calcutta, the 23rd December, 1902.

Risk Note, Form G.

READ—

Section 72 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890).

Government of India Circular No. I Railway, dated the 9th March, 1898.

RESOLUTION.

With Government of India Circular No. I Railway, dated the 9th March, 1898, was promulgated a Risk Note, Form D, to be used when the sender elects to despatch at a "special reduced" or "owner's risk" rate dangerous, explosive or combustible articles for which an alternative "ordinary" or "railway risk" rate is quoted by railway administrations. Consignors using that risk note are obliged to execute a separate note in the prescribed form for each consignment despatched by them.

2. To obviate the inconvenience thus experienced by regular consignors, and to assist the trade generally, it has been suggested that an additional Risk Note, Form G, should be introduced for use as an alternative to Form D to cover frequent despatches of dangerous, explosive, or combustible articles booked at owner's risk.

3. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to approve, under section 72 (2) (b) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), of the use of the enclosed form, with effect from the 1st February, 1903, by railway administrations working railways to which the said Act applies.

4. In the case of railways to which Local Acts similar in scope to the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), are applicable, the Governor General in Council is also pleased to approve of the use of the form from the same date, so far as his approval may be necessary under such Local Acts.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution, and of its enclosure, be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations and to the Officers marginally noted, for information and guidance; also

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the eight days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 8th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There have been light showers over a considerable part of the country during the eight days under review. The depression from Persia which entered North-West India at the close of the previous week gave showers on the 1st and 2nd January to Sialkot, Rawalpindi, Murree, Khushab, Mooltan and the Kashmir stations, the heaviest fall of rain over India having been 0·51 inch at Murree. On the 1st, 2nd and 3rd rain in increasing amounts fell over Ceylon and on the 4th this rainfall extended northward over the south of the Peninsula. On the 4th the fall was confined to Trivandrum, Trichinopoly and the stations in the East Coast (South) division. On the 5th it was reported from Tinnevely, Madura, Trichinopoly, Cuddapah and all the stations along the south of the East Coast, 3·25 inches having fallen at Madras. On the 6th and 7th the rainfall continued over South India and the south of the East Coast and had extended well into the Deccan, the largest amounts reported were 1 inch at Hanumkonda and Sholapur and 2 inches at Nellore on the 6th, and 1 inch at Tinnevely on the 7th. On the 8th rain from this source ceased. In the meantime on the 5th a depression had appeared over Gujarat and the Gulf of Cambay. This depression occasioned a shift of wind to east over a large part of Northern and Central India, a change which was accompanied on the 6th, 7th and 8th with light snow at Ranikhet, Mussooree, Chakrata and Simla, and light rain at Roorkee, Umballa, Meerut, Delhi and at several stations in the West and East Satpuras and the Central India Plateau, the heaviest amounts at this time were 0·2 inch at Seoni, 0·3 inch at Malegaon and nearly 0·5 inch at Akola and Pachmarhi. The weather has also been showery and unsettled in Persia during the week, but these unsettled conditions have not extended to Baluchistan.

The following table shows that rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, vis., the West Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain, the North-West Dry Area, the Central India Plateau, the West Satpuras, the Deccan and the south of the East Coast and in the Jubbulpore, Calicut and Madura sub-divisions. The amount was heavier than usual in the Jubbulpore, Calicut and Madura sub-divisions and in the Deccan and East Coast (South) divisions. The average actual rainfall ranged from only 0·01 inch in the North-West Dry Area to 2·99 inches in the East Coast (South).

The total rainfall for the period November 28th to date has exceeded the normal over Burma Coast and Wet divisions, over the Calcutta sub-division, the East Coast (North) division, the Ranchi and Jubbulpore sub-divisions, the Indore sub-division and the West Coast, Gujarat, West Satpuras, the Deccan, South India and East Coast (South) divisions. Elsewhere the rainfall has been short of the average and over North-West India this deficiency is becoming considerable, thus over the Western Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain and the North-West Dry Area the mean average actual rainfall of the season has been only 0·06 inch, while the average normal rainfall is 0·90 inch.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 3rd January, 1903.

Madras.—Rainfall practically nil. The irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay.—Slight rain fell during the week in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Khandesh. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and the Upper Sindh Frontier. Standing crops have been damaged by locusts or drought in parts of Hyderabad; by insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Bijapur; and by rats in parts of Nasik. They are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops has been almost completed in Sholapur and Baroda and continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, the Carnatic and Kanara. Threshing is in progress in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur and Dharwar. The sowing of spring crops has been completed in parts of Larkana, Thar and Parkar and Thana; is almost over in Ratnagiri; and continues in parts of Sukkur, Surat and Kanara. Cotton crops are in good condition in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, Dharwar and Wadhwan. Picking has been almost completed in Khandesh and continues in parts of Thar and Parkar and Nasik. The fodder supply is sufficient, except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock are in good condition and generally sufficient. The water supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The price of rice is below the normal in Gujarat, the Konkan and the Carnatic, and over the normal in the Deccan, and compared with 1902 is higher in the Deccan, and generally easier elsewhere. The price of bajra is about normal in the Konkan and below normal elsewhere, and compared with 1902 is generally easier. The price of juar (Giant millet) is below normal in Gujarat, about normal in the Deccan and the Carnatic, over normal in the Konkan, and compared with 1902 is about the same in the Konkan and considerably easier elsewhere. The price of wheat is slightly over normal in Gujarat and considerably over normal in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Carnatic, and compared with 1902 is generally easier. The prices of the cheapest food-grains in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were—Ahmedabad 38; Sholapur 55; Bijapur 51.

The daily average numbers on relief were—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On relief works:—422. In poor-houses, 1,334; on village relief, 2,700. Total, 4,456. The figures for Ahmedabad are incomplete.

Bengal.—There was no rain during the week. The standing crops require rain in the districts of Bankura, Nadia, Jessore, Champaran, Bhagalpur, Palamau and Singhbhum. Prospects are generally good. Harvesting of winter rice is proceeding and threshing has commenced. Sugarcane pressing continues. Poppy is promising. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in fourteen and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—The weather was rainless over the provinces except in Almora, where a slight shower was recorded. Rain is wanted and would be beneficial to spring crops particularly in unirrigated tracts. Wheat and barley are coming into ear; and pulse, gram and mustard are flowering. The standing crops have more or less suffered from frost in eighteen districts. Prospects are generally good. Markets are well supplied and fodder is ample, but is dear in Mainpuri. Prices continue generally stationary.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Ferozepur, Rawalpindi, Mianwali and Mooltan. Sugarcane pressing continues. Sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good in irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. Rain is urgently wanted for unirrigated crops throughout the province. The recent rain has done some good to the standing crops in parts of Mianwali, but there is a fear of their withering if no rain falls. The crops are also withering in Hissar and Sialkot for want of rain. The standing crops have suffered to some extent by frost in parts of Jullundur, Ferozepore and Sialkot. Crops are being damaged by caterpillars in parts of Ferozepore. Locusts appeared in parts of Mianwali and slightly damaged the standing spring crops. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Amritsar, Sialkot and Mooltan. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Umballa, and falling in Mooltan. The prices of other food-grains remain generally unchanged.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week. The condition of the crops is generally average so far, but rain is badly wanted. Food-grains and fodder are generally sufficient in Peshawar. Water in canals is sufficient, but in rivers it is diminishing. Prices:—wheat, $13\frac{1}{2}$ and $13\frac{1}{2}$; gram $17\frac{1}{2}$ and 18; and maize $18\frac{1}{2}$ and 20 seers in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma.—Showers fell in most parts of Lower Burma and very light rain fell in a few districts of Upper Burma. Reaping of paddy has been completed in Tharrawaddy, Thongwa, Myitkyina, the Ava sub-division, and Sagaing, and is nearly completed in other districts. Ploughing for and sowing of dry weather paddy are in progress. The prospects of the harvest remain the same as previously reported. The price of paddy has risen in two and fallen in four districts.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cloudy and generally warmer than last week. The threshing of autumn crops is approaching completion, but juar and cotton are still being harvested. The prospects of the winter crops are generally good, but some damage by the frost of last week is reported from Jubbulpore, Seoni, Narsinghpur, Bhandara and Balaghat, especially to arhar (tur) and sil in Jubbulpore and Narsinghpur. Damage by insects is reported from Betul, Chanda and Raipur, and by the cloudy weather from Nagpur, Chanda and Bilaspur. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices are generally steady. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—wheat, 17; gram, 21; rice, 17; and juar, 30. The highest prices are:—wheat, $10\frac{1}{2}$; gram, $12\frac{1}{2}$; rice, $8\frac{1}{2}$, and juar, 18. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—Relief workers (Public Works Department)—adults, 6,340; children, 1,058; total, 7,398. Gratuitous relief—otherwise relieved—adults, 3,180; children, 1,282; total, 4,462. Total on all forms of relief, 11,860. The number of Public Works Department camps open is 11.

Assam.—Rainfall nil. The weather is cold. Harvesting of late rice; pruning of tea; and pressing of sugarcane are in progress. The outturn of late rice and sugarcane is generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup. Ploughing for early and late rice and jute has commenced in Sylhet. The gathering of pulse continues and of mustard has been commenced in places. Prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet, fair in Cachar and Darrang, but are poor elsewhere. The prospects of pulses are poor in Nowgong and Sibsagar, and are fair to good elsewhere. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Sylhet and Tezpur 14, Gauhati 13, Nowgong and Sibsagar 12, Dibrugarh $11\frac{1}{2}$, and Dhubri 11, seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—Harvesting of rice and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool and cloudy. Cutting of juar and picking of cotton continue. The winter crops are in good condition. Insects have appeared in two talukas. Preparation of land for monsoon crops has been commenced in the Basim, Mangrul and Melghat talukas. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar has risen.

Hyderabad.—Rainfall 4 cents. The autumn and early rice are being harvested. The spring harvest has begun in parts of several talukas. Spring crops, especially oilseeds, are being injured by insects. The standing crops are fair to good generally. Winter rice sowings over a limited area continue. Prices—wheat $7\frac{1}{2}$, rice $8\frac{1}{2}$ and juar $25\frac{1}{2}$ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—Agricultural operations have been almost completed. The standing crops are doing well. Cotton picking has been completed in Jaipur and continues in Kishengarh and Ajmer-Merwara. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price in seers per rupee was—Kotah 36, and the highest—Sirohi 14. There were 601 persons on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—Slight rain fell in Bhopal, but none elsewhere. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally good, but have been slightly injured by frost in parts of Gwalior and by cold and insects in Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. Average prices— $20\frac{1}{2}$ to $38\frac{1}{2}$ in Gwalior, $31\frac{1}{2}$ in Bhopal, 22 to 28 in Bundelkhand, $32\frac{1}{2}$ in Malwa, 32 to 40 in Bhopawar and 9 to 36 in Indore. Opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal, and good in Malwa. Opium operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore.

Kashmir.—The weather is bright and more chilly. Snow has fallen on the higher hills. Prices are stationary. JAMMU—Rainfall nil. Prices are stationary. Wheat is selling from 13 to 23 seers and maize from 21 to 32 seers the rupee. Standing crops are withering for want of rain, which is urgently required. Fodder is growing scarce.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is frosty and very cold. The price of rice is 8½ seers per rupee.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION BRANCH.

Resolution by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province.

Dated 23rd December 1902.

READ—

Revenue Report by the Chief Engineer, Irrigation Works of the Swat River Canal for the triennial period 1899-1900 to 1901-1902.

RESOLUTION.—The irrigated area during the first two years of the triennium under review was the highest on record. During the year 1901-1902, one of extreme drought when water in all the rivers was low owing to the complete failure of winter rains, very satisfactory results were also attained, the area irrigated being only about 8,000 acres less than that of 1900-1901, the highest on record.

2. There are certain questions as to extension of the Canal across the Mokam Nallah and the measures to be taken to prevent waterlogging which are under discussion

3. The tract irrigated by the Canal still suffers from an insufficiency of settled population to provide tenants for the lands. As population increases and settles on the soil, cultivation will doubtless improve, and greater economy of the use of the water will be possible.

4. The question of complete transfer of the Kabul River Canal to the Irrigation Department is under consideration, and it is hoped will be effected during the course of the next year.

5. The Chief Commissioner would record his appreciation of the able management of the Department by Mr. G. M. R. Field, Chief Engineer, who was in charge during the year and his cordial thanks to him for his ready advice and assistance in irrigation matters.

By order of the Hon'ble Chief Commissioner,

J. BENTON,

Offg. Secy. for Irrigation N.-W. F. Province.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 15th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has been very little rain over the greater part of India during the week under review. At the beginning of the week a very shallow depression was shown over the East Satpuras and the Central India Plateau, and Saugor and Jubbulpore each reported showers of 0.25 inch on the 9th, and Sutna a shower of 0.09 inch on the 10th. During the 11th another very shallow depression appeared over Bengal. A light shower giving 0.10 inch of rain occurred at Chaibassa on this day, while on the 12th rain was reported from Sibsagar and Tezpur, on the 13th from Dibrugarh, Sibsagar, Tezpur, Gaya, Benares, Chaibassa, Hazaribagh, Sutna and Saugor, on the 14th from Silchar, Barisal, Saugor Island, Jessore, Sibsagar, Dibrugarh, Burdwan, Chaibassa, Hazaribagh, and Balasore, and on the 15th from Saugor Island, False Point and Sibsagar. Most of these showers were very light, seldom exceeding 0.10 inch in amount, but Silchar reported nearly 2 inches on the morning of the 14th.

The weather has been feebly unsettled over Persia and Baluchistan during the week, Chaman reporting light showers on the 9th and 10th, and Jask moderate showers on the 14th and 15th. At Aden also the weather has been unsettled and rain was received on the 10th and 11th. In Kashmir on the other hand, the weather has been exceptionally fine, and practically no snow has fallen.

The following table shows that rain has been received during the week in the Delta of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Gangetic Plain and the Baluchistan divisions, and in the Cuttack, Ranchi, Jubbulpore and Jhansi sub-divisions, the average actual amount ranging from 0.40 inch in the Narayanganj sub-division to 0.02 inch in the Baluchistan Division. The rainfall has been slightly heavier than usual in the Delta of Bengal and the Burdwan, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions; except in the above divisions and sub-divisions the weather has been rainless during the week.

There has been no important change in the seasonal condition, but as pointed out last week, the seasonal deficiency in North-West India is becoming large. Thus in the Simla sub-division since the 28th November 1902, only 0·19 inch of rain has been received instead of the normal 2·46 inches. in the Ludhiana sub-division only 0·04 inch instead of 1·52 inches, in the Cawnpore sub-division only 0·02 inch instead of 0·70 inch, in the Lahore sub-division only 0·04 inch instead of 0·91 inch, in the North-West Dry division only 0·01 inch instead of 0·57 inch and in the Jhansi sub-division only 0·15 inch instead of 0·86 inch.

SIMLA;
The 15th January, 1903.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 10th January, 1903.

Madras.—The rain was good during the week in Cuddapah, the Carnatic, North Arcot and Tanjore; nil in the Circars, parts of the Deccan and the West Coast Districts; and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are generally sufficient except in parts of Ganjam, Anantapur, and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally in good condition. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen.

Bombay.—There was moderate rain during the week in parts of Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, and Sholapur; and slight falls in parts of Ahmednagar, Bijapur and Belgaum. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur, Larkana and the Upper Sindh Frontier. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts, rats or insects in parts of Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, and Nasik; by frost in parts of Hyderabad and the Upper Sindh Frontier; by cloudy weather in parts of Nasik, Bijapur, Surat, and Dharwar; and by the recent rainfall in parts of Broach, Poona, Sholapur, and Khandesh. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Karachi, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, Sholapur, Satara, Belgaum, Dharwar, and Kanara. Threshing is almost over in Thana and Colaba, and is progressing in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, and Dharwar. The spring sowings have been completed in Sukkur, Ratnagiri, and Baroda, and continue in parts of Surat. Cotton is in good condition in Dharwar and Wadhwan, and is slightly injured in parts of Surat, Broach, Bijapur, and Dharwar by rain or cloudy weather. Picking is completed in Khandesh, and continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in five districts, risen in one district, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grains in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were:—Ahmedabad thirty-eight; Bijapur fifty-three.

The daily average numbers on relief were:—British Districts— in poor-houses 83; on village relief 1,472; total 1,555.

Bengal—No rain. The prospects of the standing spring crops are generally good, but rain is needed in the districts of Bankura, Nadia, Jessore, Pabna, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Bhagalpur, Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum. Harvesting and threshing of winter rice are going on. Poppy is doing well. There is no want of fodder or water. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in twelve, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—A sprinkling of rain is reported in ten districts but more is now generally required. Irrigation is being actively carried on and the pressing of sugarcane continues. The crops in thirteen districts are reported to have been injured by frost. Prospects are otherwise good and the poppy crop is said to be doing well. Fodder and supplies are sufficient. Prices have a tendency to rise.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Hissar, Umballa, and Mooltan. Pressing of sugarcane continues in some districts. The til (sesamum) and cotton crops are being gathered in Mooltan. The spring crops are being irrigated in Lahore. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. Rain is badly wanted throughout the province. Unirrigated crops are withering for want of rain in Hissar and Lahore. The sugarcane crop has suffered from frost in Jullundur and Sialkot. Crops are being damaged by caterpillars in parts of Ferozepore. Locusts appeared in parts of Mianwali and measures were taken for their destruction. Cattle are generally in good condition, but are being overworked in some districts. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Mianwali, and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Amritsar and Sialkot. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Jullundur, Lahore, and Mooltan, and is falling in Amritsar. The prices of other food grains remain generally unchanged.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week. The condition of the crops is average or middling, but rain is badly wanted everywhere and certain crops are beginning to wither. The stock of food grains is sufficient. Fodder is procurable but is scarce and dear. The canals are still running well in Peshawar. Prices are rising in Peshawar and are steady in Dera Ismail Khan.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Reaping of the main wet weather paddy is completed in six and nearly completed in eight districts. Threshing and winnowing are going on. Sowing for and transplanting of dry weather paddy have commenced in Mandalay, Shwebo, and Upper Chindwin. Cultivation of island crops is progressing in Pakokku. The condition of the standing crops remains almost the same as reported last week, but in Mandalay the paddy in the Mogaung tract has failed owing to the absence of later rains, and dry crops in upland tracts are also withering for want of rain and dew. The price of paddy has fallen slightly in Tharrawaddy, Prome, and Katha; considerably in Pegu; largely in Pakokku; and has risen considerably in Amherst; elsewhere it is stationary.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cloudy and light showers have fallen in most districts. In parts of Wardha the fall amounted to 68 cents. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are practically completed, but the picking of cotton and juar (Giant millet) still continues in a few districts. The spring crops are generally in good condition, but damage by frost is reported from Damoh, Jabulpore, Narsinghpur, Bhandara, and Balaghat. Some damage by the cloudy weather especially to linseed is reported from Nagpur, Chanda, Raipur, and Betul; and insects are damaging tur (Cajan pea) and gram in Chanda. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have slightly fluctuated. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—Wheat 17; gram 22; rice 17½; and juar 30. The highest are:—wheat 10; gram 11½; rice 8½; and juar 18. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—Relief works—(Public Works Department), adults 9,751; children 1,568; total 11,319. In poor-houses—adults 31; children 15; total 46. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved)—adults 3,026; children 1,260; total 4,286. Total on all forms of relief 15,651. The number of Public Works Department Camps open is 11.

Assam.—Light rain has fallen in Upper and Central Assam. Rain is wanted for mustard in Cachar and for the standing crops in Sylhet. Harvesting of late rice; pruning of tea; pressing of sugarcane; and gathering of mustard and pulse are in progress. The outturn of late rice and sugarcane is generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup; of pulse poor in Nowgong; elsewhere outturn is fair to good. Prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet; fair in Darrang and Sibsagar; but poor in other districts. Fodder is scarce in places. The water supply is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—Common rice Silchar 15; Sylhet and Tezpur 14; Gauhati 13; Dhubri, Nowgong, and Sibsagar 12; and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Shimoga. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool and cloudy. Cotton picking and cutting of jowar are nearing completion. The winter crops are doing well except gram which has been damaged by insects in parts of the Basim and Ellichpur districts. Land is being prepared for monsoon crops in the Basim district. The fodder and water-supply are ample. The price of jowar shows a tendency to rise.

Hyderabad.—Rainfall 27 cents. The harvest of late autumn crops continues. The early rice harvest is nearing completion in parts. Insects are doing damage in parts to the spring and oil seed crops, while the recent cold has also injured the standing spring crops. The winter rice sowings continue over a limited area. Prices—wheat 7½, rice 8½, and jowar 25½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—There was a slight sprinkling of rain in Jhallawar, Alwar, and Ajmer. There is no change in agricultural operations, the standing crops, and harvests. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains in seers per rupee was—Kotah 36; the highest price—Sirohi 14½. The number on gratuitous relief in Marwar is 654.

Central India.—Slight rain fell in Gwalior, Bhopal, Malwa, and Bhopawar. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The crops are generally good but have been slightly damaged by frost in parts of Gwalior and Baghelkhand; and by hail, cold and insects in parts of Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. Average prices—26 to 38-13 in Gwalior; 42-6 in Bhopal; 22 to 28 in Bundelkhand; 31 in Malwa;

32 to 40 in Bhopawar; and 8½ to 36 in Indore. Opium is good in Gwalior and fair in Bhopal. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore. The crop has been slightly injured by hail in Dhar.

Kashmir.—The weather is bright and severely cold. Prices are more above normal. Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. JAMMU.—No rain. Prices are stationary. Wheat is selling from 13 to 23 seers and maize 21 to 32 seers p r rupee. The standing crops are withering for want of rain which is badly needed. Fodder is growing scarce.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is frosty and very cold. A fall of snow is reported from the interior. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

REPORT ON THE TRADE OF KHORASAN AND SEISTAN FOR 1901-1902.

INTRODUCTION.

Since the last Meshed Trade report was written in 1900, there has been a great and important change in the system of Customs Administration in Persia which has made it possible to present, for the first time since the establishment of a British Consulate-General at Meshed, a report on the trade of Khorasan and Seistan based to some extent on accurate statistics. Previous to 1900 the Customs of the two provinces were farmed out to contractors who, if they kept reliable records of their transactions, could hardly have been expected to make them available to the public through the medium of a Consular Trade report and the statistics which they supplied were recognized to be of such little value that Meshed Trade reports have frequently been prefaced with the warning that they had been prepared from information obtained from unreliable sources. It will be remembered that one of the conditions of the Russian loan to Persia in 1900 of 22,500,000 roubles, for which the Customs revenue was security, was that the administration of the Customs should be brought under European control. Accordingly, in the early part of 1900 the Custom-houses throughout the kingdom were, with a few exceptions, handed over to a body of specially selected Belgian Customs officers, and the administration of the Customs has since remained in their hands. No report on the Trade of Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902 could consequently be regarded as complete without some reference to the effect generally which the change of system in administering the Customs has had. The reference is, however, necessarily brief for two reasons: firstly, because there is no space in a Consular Trade report for a lengthy dissertation on the relative advantages of the two systems, and secondly, because the new system has not been working long enough for it to be possible to say how it has definitely affected trade. The gain in revenue to the State for instance may be safely assumed to have been considerable. The exact figures are not available, but as it is known that the value of the imports and exports passing through the Custom-houses under Monsieur Castaigne's orders in 1901-1902 was £768,972, and that 5 per cent. duty was leviable on this amount, there can be little doubt that the sum credited to Government was substantial. In other respects also improvements have been made. A better class of subordinate Customs official is employed, speculation is, as far as possible, suppressed and a proper system of accounts has been introduced.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The tabular statements showing the value of the imports and exports of Khorasan and Seistan during 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 (from March 21st to March 21st) which are given with this report have, with the exception of the statement showing the imports by the Bandar Abbas, Bushire-Yezd and Tabriz routes, been prepared from statistics courteously made available to the Consulate-General by Monsieur Castaigne, Director General of Customs in Khorasan and Seistan. For a Trade report, however, to be of any real value it should be possible to compare the trade of the year under report with the trade of previous years. In the present instance a comparison of the trade of 1901-1902 with that of the preceding year, which was the first of the new Customs management, would be likely to be misleading, as the statistics for 1900-1901 have not admittedly the same claims to accuracy as the statistics for 1901-1902. A comparison of the trade of 1901-1902 with the trade of years previous to 1900-1901 would, either owing to the unreliable nature of the information on which former Meshed Trade reports have been based, or in consequence of the reports dealing with only a part of the trade of the two provinces, be valueless.

There are only three countries which can be described as having serious trade interests in Khorasan and Seistan: they are Russia, Great Britain and Afghanistan. The statistics of foreign trade supplied by the Customs authorities are accurate as far as they go, but they give an altogether erroneous idea of the real value of British and British Indian trade with Khorasan and Seistan. A glance at these statistics would give the impression that British and British Indian trade had dwindled to a shadow of its former self. This is, however, by no means true. The customs statistics give £768,972 as the value of the imports and exports which passed through the custom houses of Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902. This figure may be said to represent practically the entire trade of Russia, Afghanistan and British India by the Seistan route with the two provinces. The British share of this total is only £34,570. The Seistan route, however, though showing signs of increased popularity, is not as yet the principal artery for British and British Indian trade with Khorasan and Seistan. The route which appears to be still the most used is the route from Bandar Abbas. The statistics of British and British Indian trade by this route and by the Bushire-Yezd and Tabriz routes which have appeared in former Meshed trade reports have been supplied by the Meshed customs farmer who, by arrangement with the Bandar Abbas, Bushire, and Tabriz Customs farmers, was in a position to state what proportion of the imports and exports declared at these three places appertained to the trade of Khorasan and Seistan. These imports and exports are, however, now declared in the usual way, and are not known to be Khorasan and Seistan exports and imports. The Meshed Customs authorities have consequently no means of arriving at their value. The export trade with these provinces by these routes is insignificant, but an attempt has been made to arrive at the approximate value of the imports by ascertaining from British firms and Persian merchants trading with British possessions who use these routes, the approximate value of the goods which have been imported by them during 1901-1902, and by embodying the result in the tabular statements already referred to. It may safely be said that the value of British imports by these routes is considerably higher than the estimate of its value arrived at in this rough way, but taking the values of British and British Indian trade as given in the tabular statements, viz. :—

Via Seistan route	£34,570	(imports and exports)
„ Bandar Abbas route	£9,329	(imports only)
„ Bushire route	£26,484	„
„ Tabriz route	£18,060	„

it is clear that the total value of the trade during 1901-1902 was at the lowest estimate £134,443, which, in view of the enormous difficulties which British traders have to contend with in getting their goods to Khorasan where the best trade centres are situated, is far from being a contemptible figure. The share of Russia of the trade of 1901-1902, accounted for by the customs statistics was £646,398 and of Afghanistan £88,004. The favourable geographical position of Russia and the bounty system followed by her Government are the chief causes of the preponderance of Russian trade in Khorasan. To what lengths this bounty system is carried may be judged from the fact that the price of Russian sugar in Ashkabad is double the price for which it sells in Khorasan. Russian trade preponderance is, however, confined to Khorasan, as practically the entire foreign trade of Seistan is in British hands.

BRITISH AND BRITISH INDIAN IMPORTS.

The value of British and British Indian imports during 1901-1902 was £131,775. Chief among British and British Indian Imports to Khorasan and Seistan is tea. This is and should continue to be as safe a British monopoly as sugar is a Russian monopoly. There is said to have been a large accumulation of Indian tea in Meshed at the end of 1900-1901 and the tea trade during 1901-1902 is described as not having been as brisk in consequence as in recent years, the taste for tea is strongly developed even among the poorer classes of Persians, and there is always likely to be a strong and steady demand for it in Khorasan and Seistan. The value of the tea imported by the Bandar Abbas, Bushire and Seistan routes, was £50,267, but a considerable proportion of the tea brought by the two former routes is said to have been Chinese tea for exportation to Trans-Caspia and Turkistan.

Indigo.

Although much of the indigo which is imported into Khorasan and Seistan also finds its way to the Russian provinces above mentioned, the quantity which has hitherto remained was sufficient to make the local trade one of great importance. The local demand is said, however, to have decreased latterly in consequence of the increasingly heavy importation of Russian prints and chintzes of all colours which, owing to the bounty given by the Russian Government on their exportation to Persia, are being sold at very low rates. These prints and chintzes are penetrating to the remotest parts of the provinces and their cheapness is making it most difficult for local dyeing to be carried on at a profit. The Trans-Caspian and Turkistan demand during 1901-1902, on the other hand, shows no signs of declining, the reason being that the price of the Russian prints and chintzes which are sold so cheaply in Persia is not as yet sufficiently low in these provinces to seriously affect the local dyer's business. The value of the indigo imported into Khorasan and Seistan in 1901-1902 was £18,402.

Piece-goods or textile fabrics.

In view of the great demand which the figures for Russian imports under this head clearly show to be existing in Khorasan and Seistan, the value of British woollen and cotton piece-goods imported during 1901-1902, viz., £34,418 is disappointingly low. Merchants dealing in these goods explain, however, that the bounty system enables the Russian traders to sell Russian cotton piece-goods so cheaply that they regard it as only a question of time for the British article to be driven from the Khorasan markets. The prospects in the woollen piece-goods trade are said to be somewhat better, and a fair business was done in these goods during 1901-1902. The high rate of camel hire on the Bandar Abbas route made profit making in both lines of business more difficult than usual.

Yarn.

The same causes which militated against success in the cotton piece-goods trade injuriously affected the yarn trade during 1901-1902. It is, moreover, to be feared that the demand for this article will never regain its former proportions. The Russian bounty-fed manufacturer has again stepped in and captured a branch of trade which has been hitherto practically a British monopoly. He has manufactured a striped print which so closely resembles a cloth formerly much in use among the Turkomans and Kurds and which was locally made from dyed Indian yarn, and sells it at so cheap a rate, that it has completely supplanted the latter. The local yarn cloth industry has in consequence ceased to exist, and with it a large part of the demand for Indian yarn. The value of the yarn imported during the year was £7,200.

Copper

Copper is being found in such large quantities in the neighbourhood of Nishapur that the importation of copper from India is said to have ceased to be profitable.

Spices

There was a large accumulation of stocks of these articles at the end of 1900-1901 owing to excessive importation during that year, and low prices ruled accordingly during the year under review. Business was slack in consequence. The value of spices imported from India in 1901-1902 was £1,990.

Hardware and ironmongery.

Hardware and ironmongery appear under one head in the customs statistics. The quantity of British iron articles, however, imported is not great and the bulk of the importation was haberdashery, the term including thread, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, towels, socks, and scarves.

RUSSIAN IMPORTS.

The value of Russian imports during 1901-1902 was £341,447.

Sugar is Russia's chief import. It is an article which, owing to the Persian's love of Sugar. sweetmeats and to the extraordinary quantity which he is in the habit of using to sweeten his tea, finds an excellent market throughout the country. The value of Russian sugar imported into Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902 was £144,625, or more than 40 per cent. of Russia's total importation.

Second in importance to sugar among Russian imports are "textile fabrics." There was a heavy importation of these articles in 1901-1902, the value of cotton piece-goods alone reaching £115,799. The bounty given by the Russian Government on the exportation of cotton goods to Persia has enabled the Russian manufacturers to capture the Khorasan markets for these goods and is enabling them to retain possession of these markets. It is considered doubtful, however, by persons competent to judge, whether the Russian cotton goods could seriously compete with English cotton piece-goods in Khorasan, if the Russian Government were to abandon their bounty system. Textile fabrics.

This is an article for which there is a steady demand and on the sale of which excellent profits are realized. The oil is brought from Ashkabad by fourgons in strong metal cases which are sold with the oil to the retail dealers and which make an excellent receptacle for the oil in the latter's shops. This branch of trade is another Russian monopoly. The value of kerosine oil imported during 1901-1902 was £14,618. Kerosine oil.

The paper on sale in the Khorasan bazars is chiefly Russian paper. It is inferior in quality but cheap in price and consequently finds favour with the Persians. Paper.

There was a fairly heavy importation of Russian haberdashery during 1901-1902. Under the term ironmongery, nails are included. There is a heavy demand for this article in Khorasan which is mainly supplied by Russia. The Russian nail cannot compare either in finish or durability with the British article, but owing to the distance of the Khorasan markets from British possessions, nails of British manufacture are rarely seen in Khorasan. Haberdashery and ironmongery.

There is a considerable demand in Khorasan for iron and steel which is mainly supplied from Russia. The value of these metals imported from Russia in 1901-1902 was £8,010. Metals.

There is a fair demand for this article which is also mainly supplied from Russia. The demand in 1901-1902 is said to have been normal. Glassware.

Nearly £5,130 worth of Russian matches was imported during 1901-1902. The matches are of inferior manufacture, but cheap in price. Matches.

The rice which figures in the customs returns as a Russian import is not grown in Russia, but comes from the neighbourhood of Resht, whence it is sent via the Caspian to Ashkabad to be exported to Eastern Persia. Rice.

AFGHAN IMPORTS.

The value of Afghan imports into Khorasan and Seistan in 1901-1902 was £69,759.

The bulk of the wool which is the chief Afghan import brought into Khorasan is sold to Russian Armenians who export it to Russia, whence much of it is said to be again exported to France and the United States. The value of the Afghan wool imported in 1901-1902 was £29,156 or more than 40 per cent. of the total importation.

"Ghi" or clarified butter and rice are other important Afghan imports.

The value of the former article imported in 1901-1902 was £14,100, of the latter £5,737.

BRITISH EXPORTS.

The value of the exports sent to India by the Seistan route in 1901-1902 was £6,664. The export trade with British possessions by the other routes to the south is described as being equally insignificant. Silk piece-goods, horses and "ghi" are the principal exports by the Seistan route. The two former are sent chiefly from Khorasan and the latter from Seistan, but there is not a heavy exportation under these heads. The chances of a lucrative export trade between Khorasan and India seem as remote as ever. Attempts have recently been made to sell Khorasan wool in India, but they were not attended with success and have been abandoned.

Raw cotton and hides are two other important exports, but merchants are of opinion that these articles are never under present conditions likely to repay exportation to India.

RUSSIAN EXPORTS.

Russia absorbs over 90 per cent. of the export trade of Khorasan and Seistan. Raw cotton, raw wool, hides and skins, dried fruits, live stock, shawls, carpets, opium and certain coloured Persian cotton cloths, which the Russian manufacturers have not as yet succeeded in copying, are all largely exported to Russia and find a good market there.

The proximity of Russia gives her so commanding a position in the Khorasan export trade that she has little reason to fear that it can ever be wrested from her.

Indigo and tea figure in the Customs statistics among Khorasan exports. The indigo is Indian indigo and, as the demand for it in Trans-Caspia and Turkistan is said to be very considerable, the Customs figures probably only represent an infinitesimal part of the real exportation from Khorasan to these provinces. The tea is said to be chiefly Chinese green tea imported by the Bandar Abbas route into Meshed and sent thence to Trans-Caspia and Turkistan.

AFGHAN EXPORTS.

The export trade of Khorasan and Seistan with Afghanistan is unimportant. Textile fabrics figure as the chief, and indeed the only important export, in the Customs Statistics, but these goods were of foreign manufacture, chiefly Russian, which were imported into Meshed and sent from there to the province of Herat.

COST OF CARRIAGE.

The average cost of carriage during 1901-1902 by the two most important routes from the South to Meshed was—

via the Seistan route (from Quetta)	265 krans* per Meshed Kharwar of 650 lbs.
via the Bandar Abbas route (from Pandar Abbas)	340 krans per Meshed Kharwar of 650 lbs.

PRICES.

A table of the prices of the principal imports and exports is given at the end of the report.

EXCHANGE.

Mr. M. Ferguson, the Manager of the Meshed Branch of the Imperial Bank of Persia, has been kind enough to write the following note on the exchange which ruled in Meshed during 1901-1902 :—

“ During the year, March 1901—March 1902, the exchange in Meshed kept very much lower than in any other part of Persia. The average rates for the different changes were—

Demand bills on London	5 $\frac{1}{2}$ krans per pound sterling.
” ” Bombay	30 $\frac{1}{2}$ rupees per krans 100.
” ” Russia	535 krans per roubles 100.

Nothing occurred to influence the exchange abnormally which varied according to the seasons of demand between krans 49 and krans 51 per pound sterling.”

LIST OF PRICES.

The list of prices of the principal imports and exports ruling in 1901-1902 is not procurable. The following note gives the prices ruling in Meshed at the present moment vis. in November 1902 of some of the principal imports and exports and has been prepared by Mr. T. J. Greensill who is canvassing for trade in Khorasan and Seistan. The Kran has decreased in value since March 1902 and the present rate of exchange is approximately 57 Krans to the pound sterling. The present value of the Kran then is nearer four pence than five pence, the approximate value in 1901-1902. A tuman equals ten Krans. With regard to weights the Meshed "man," the usual measure of weight in Khorasan, equals 6½ English pounds. The Khawar equals 100 Meshed Mans or 650 pounds.

IMPORTED INTO MESHED FROM INDIA.

There are several kinds of both black and green tea sold here but the most in demand are Tea the following :—

1. Black tea.—Fine Pekoe leaf wiry and even with few tips, known here as "Kalami," present rate 20 krans per Meshed "man" (the Meshed tea "man" is now fixed at 7 lbs. or correctly 14½ "mans" to the 100 lbs.) with a credit of fifteen months equivalent to 17 krans cash. Leafy kinds are not much in demand, but some would sell at 20th krans carrying 20 to 5 months' credit equivalent to 15 to 16 krans cash.

2. Green tea.—Gunpowder-hold even leaf coloured greenish, known here as "Sabz," present rate 21 krans per Meshed "man" (7 lbs.) with four months' credit, equivalent to about 20 krans cash. For natural unfaced or faced there is no demand, but coloured after the China style, in India known as Bombay tea, would find ready sale if not too expensive. Heavy soap-stoned greens are rejected at once.

3. White or Silver tipped tea.—Known here as "Lamsa," is really a mixed tea, consisting of about 15 per cent. silver tips and about 85 per cent. uneven Orange Pekoe and Pekoe leaf and comes chiefly from Java usually packed in 5 lb. lead-lined wooden boxes and sells here at 40 krans per "man" (7 lbs.) with twelve months' credit which is equivalent to about 35 krans cash. Those with more white tips fetch slightly better rates, but the demand is very limited.

At present Nos. 1 and 2 would find ready sale for fairly large quantities. No. 3 would find buyers but for a small consignment.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

REPORT ON THE TRADE OF SEISTAN AND KAIN FOR THE YEAR 1901-1902.

1. The figures contained in this, the first Trade Report that has been compiled since the establishment of a British Vice-Consulate in Seistan, were obtained, with the exception of those for Kain, from the records of the Persian Customs Department through the kindness of their Belgian Director in Seistan.

Owing, however, to the fact that for 3 months of the year (April, May, July) the Customs Department in Seistan was not under direct European supervision, the records were only systematically kept for 9 out of the 12 months under report.

The figures furnished from Birjand must be regarded as only approximately correct. The same facilities for obtaining statistical information were not forthcoming there as in Seistan, and the returns, though prepared from the most reliable sources available, are wanting in detail and accuracy.

The records of the Customs Department being kept in the Persian currency the figures in this report have been converted into the Indian and English currency at the average rate of exchange for the year, viz.—

Krans 350 = R100; R15 = £1.

2. It is necessary to preface this report with the remark that Seistan can in no way be considered a large trading centre. It can, at present, support a small local import and export trade only. The inhabitants, being mostly of the agricultural class, cheapness, rather than quality, is looked for, and ready money is very scarce. Birjand, the capital of the Kainat, has a much larger import and export market, and a wealthier trading community.

Seistan derives its importance commercially from the fact that it is the chief distributing centre for the larger and more opulent markets of the Kainat, Khorasan, and the Afghan frontier towns; and from the fact that it is the main Customs Bureau of Entrance for Eastern Persia.

3. There are but two main trade routes from India by which goods are imported into Seistan and Kain, viz.—

- (1) The Quetta-Nushki route
- (2) The Persian Gulf route via Bunder Abbas.

Calculated on the statistics* contained in this report 51 per cent. of the total import and export trade of Seistan and Kain, for the year 1901-1902, passed by the Bunder Abbas route, while 49 per cent. passed by the Quetta-Nushki route, thus giving a slight balance of 2 per cent. in favour of the Bunder Abbas route. But it must be remembered that the Birjand figures are not reliable, are founded on native sources of information and, therefore, perhaps, somewhat exaggerated. In any case the percentage in favour of the Bunder Abbas route is very slight. It may be attributed to two main causes; force of habit, and the new Customs Regulations. It is not easy to get an Asiatic out of a groove. The Persian of Seistan and Kain has for years been using the Bunder Abbas route, and, though he loves novelty in almost every other respect, when it comes to leaving a beaten track and his own country, to enter a strange one he hesitates to take the step. The Bunder Abbas route does not take him out of his native land.

The new Customs organization and the strict control exercised thereby over the movements of traders were resented by the Persian trading community generally who were unable to understand what they regarded as an innovation. By using the Bunder Abbas route the Persian trader avoids having any direct monetary dealings with the officials of the Customs Department; for his business transactions with Bunder Abbas are conducted through the medium of a broker who includes all customs charges in his bill. Although this plan must cost the Persian trader dearer, yet he would apparently prefer it. If he would use the Nushki route he must pass through the Customs house here and pay cash before he can start.

Again, the Persian merchants who trade by the Bunder Abbas route generally own their own camel transport. An idea, which it seems difficult to disabuse their minds of still exists among them, that if they went to Quetta their animals must be impressed for Government service elsewhere, and this idea probably acts as a deterrent with many.

As regards facilities for travelling, the two routes cannot, as far as I am aware, be compared. The Nushki route is now provided with rest-houses and, I understand, with good wells at every stage; while it is now possible to travel on it with the utmost safety. The Bunder Abbas route cannot, it is understood, yet claim these advantages.

As regards cost of transport on the two routes, which are about the same in length, camel hire from Quetta to Seistan during the year averaged R5 per Indian maund (80 lbs.). From Seistan to Birjand camel hire averaged R2-8 per Indian maund. This makes a total of R7-8 per Indian maund from Quetta to Birjand. From Bunder Abbas to Birjand the cost of transport averaged about R5-8 per Indian maund, so that the latter route would appear to hold a slight advantage as regards cost of transport.

*Not published.

But it must be remembered that no fixed rate exists either here or in Birjand, and the cost of transport is invariably a matter of bargaining.

The use of the Birjand route is confined almost entirely to Persian traders but the experience of the past year should prove a deterrent to many; for over 500 camels are said to have succumbed to the hardships of this route during the past trading season. It is hoped that with patience and as they gradually become accustomed to the benefits of a well organised Customs Department, the Persian merchant will be more ready to patronise the Quetta-Nushki route.

British Indian merchants in Seistan and Kain used the Nushki route only; they readily fell in with the new Customs regulations.

Imports.—The import trade of Seistan consists of (1) merchandise from India, (2) Merchandise from Meshed (mostly Russian goods), (3) merchandise from Afghanistan.

Of the total imports into Seistan 90 per cent. comes from India, 7 per cent. from Meshed and 3 per cent. from Afghanistan. Again, of the total imports to Seistan 40 per cent. (of which about $\frac{1}{2}$ were Indian goods) remained in Seistan, while 30 per cent. passed through for the Khorasan markets.

70 per cent. comes by the Nushki route.
20 per cent. " " Bunder Abbas.

The import trade of Seistan is confined to articles of low price. Only the local officials and a few headmen of village have money to spend on expensive articles. The latter command a better sale in Birjand. Barter still exists in Seistan and business transactions on a large scale do not exist among local merchants. A more business appears to be done with Afghan merchants than with the Seistanis themselves. The system of long credit, prevalent all over Persia, is also demanded here.

A system of trade, known as "cast-farosh", is very popular here among British Indian merchants. It is a system of hawking on a superior scale. A certain amount of merchandise is entrusted to a village trader, who visits all the neighbouring villages in turn and receives a commission on his sales. Even the hawker's wife enters into the arrangement and in this way a great deal of merchandise which would not otherwise find a sale reaches the "anderun" or female apartments of local notables.

An attempt has been made in the accompanying tables to classify the Indian imports according to their selling capacity in Seistan, and it is hoped that they will form a useful guide to intending Indian or other traders desirous of coming to Seistan. The following remarks are now offered on the different imports:—

Cotton and Woollen Goods.—Of these, Turkey Reds, Longcloth (known as "jadgi" and of three kinds), coloured Cotton Prints, nainsook, enamel ware, coloured handkerchiefs, command an extensive and ready sale.

Of coloured cotton prints, that known as "gagarah" (yellow flowers on a red ground) is sold as fast as it can be imported.

A good deal of Russian coloured prints is sold in Seistan. Its colour is said to be more permanent and it is certainly popular. The Indian prints however, easily hold their own and the Seistani buys the Russian print probably more from force of habit than anything else. The Seistani has not yet had time to test the Indian article properly. If our prints could be made a little stouter in quality and of a more permanent colour, they would command an enormous sale. The prices of the English and Russian prints are about the same.

Handkerchiefs.—These command an enormous sale, provided they are not less than 1 yard square and are coloured.

Enamel-ware.—All kinds are in demand except articles of household furniture. Enamel drinking mugs, if of small size, command no sale whatever. Oval shaped large flat dishes are much sought after.

Tea.—Both black and green tea command a sale. About $\frac{1}{4}$ th of the tea imported was Black. Black tea is consumed locally and green is exported to Afghan territory. White tipped tea called "Lumsai" is the favourite.

Indigo.—Only the chief quality is used in Seistan. Although it is universally used, our merchants find very little sale for it, and have given up importing it to a large extent for local use. The reason is that the Seistani dyers, who own their own transport, generally, go themselves to Sukkur or Multan to fetch it. As often as not they evade the customs by using the Afghan route and can thus easily undersell our merchants on their return to Seistan.

Sugar.—Loaf Sugar is in universal demand. Three kinds are imported, viz., French, Austrian and Russian. The first named comes almost entirely from India via Bunder Abbas; the Austrian via Quetta and the Russian from Meshed. The French sugar is the more popular. Crystallized sugar from India is also in demand. Sugar Candy (Kuja misri) commands a fair sale. It is used a great deal by opium smokers and sweet-meat makers.

Stationery.—Cheap quality only in demand. German make of different colour is preferred.

Spices.—Black pepper, cinnamon, and "haldi" (turmeric) more than other spices.

Leather goods.—Black shoes of cheap quality, ammunition boots. No demand for English saddlery.

Metals.—Iron in rods about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch square is extensively used for making horse shoes.

Matches.—Swedish and Japanese sulphur matches command a very extensive sale.

Tobacco.—Egyptian cigarettes of cheap quality sell better than American and English Cigarettes, tobacco and papers command a good sale.

Miscellaneous.—Matches, (cheap quality only), Oilman stores, Snuff, Cutlery, Lungis, Candles, Bone Buttons, old uniforms and clothes, Indian Rice, American oil—all these command only a moderate sale; Russian kerosine oil from Meshed is universally used. It sells here at 9 krans (Rs. 2-9) per Seistani man (=13 lbs.).

The total value of Russian goods imported into Seistan was Rs. 22,143 or about £1,476.

Exports.—The chief exports of Seistan produce are;—Ghi, Wool, Feathers, Assafetida, Melon seeds, Cotton.

From the statistics of the Customs Department 91 % of the total exports went to India by the Nushki route. Of these exports only 80 % were local produce and of this local produce 90 % was Ghi (clarified butter.)

The other (non-local) exports (70%) merely passed through Seistan from Meshed and other places and consisted mainly of horses, mules, silks.

A small quantity of Russian mole-skin cloth called "Chikan Mahout" was exported to India, being taken there by camel men and not by local traders.

Ghi.—The main industry of Seistan is the manufacture of Ghi. It is produced locally in the following districts:—(1) Miankangi and Seistan proper (2) Lower Seistan (3) Naizar. It is also imported from the region South of Seistan and the Sarhad, and from Afghan territory.

Miankangi lies to the North and East of Seistan; Lower Seistan to the South-East; and the Naizar North-West of Seistan.

It is estimated that the total amount of Ghi capable of being produced locally is 32,863 Indian maunds or about 1,174 tons. This estimate is based on the total number of sheep and cows in Seistan, which again has been calculated from the amount of grazing tax paid annually to the local Government. This is exclusive of the Ghi imported into Seistan, which is estimated at about 536 tons.

The price of Ghi varies according to the time of year it is bought. The most favourable time to buy is in May. Money is advanced freely here by local traders for the purchase of Ghi months before-hand. The buying price of Ghi for the year under report was from 8 to 12 krans (Rs. 2-1 to Rs. 3-7 per Seistani man, =13 lbs.) or about 3d to 4d per lb.

Ghi is exported to Quetta, Bunder Abbas, Kirman and Kain.

Wool. The months of April and October are the best for buying wool. In April the flocks leave Seistan for the hills; in October they return. The amount of wool capable of being produced in Seistan is estimated at 1,339 tons. This is based on the number of sheep (said to be 404,000) which pay grazing tax annually. The price of wool locally varies from 9s. 4d. to 37s. 4d. per cwt. The Seistan wind fills the local wool with a great quantity of dirt, and it is said to require a lot of cleaning.

Feathers. The Seistani feathers are much sought after and command a good price in Meshed and other parts of Persia. The trade is in the hands of certain Sayads who lease the Naizar, or reed swamps, to the North-West of Seistan which in the winter months abound in wild fowl. There are two qualities, viz., the picked and unpicked. The latter quality contains much dirt and large and small feathers are mixed together. The former consists of down and the finer feathers.

Melon seeds.—These are exported in large quantities to Kirman.

Openings for trade in Seistan. As stated above there is not much opening for trade on a large scale in Seistan itself. The small Indian trader, however, does a lucrative business. There are already six Indian Merchants in Seistan. A year ago there was but one. Three of these merchants have already acquired land and built their own shops. All, except two, act as Agents for their head firms in Meshed and Birjand. One merchant has built a line of six shops with a travellers' caravansarai attached, on the best site in Seistan. These shops will be available for hire. A firm of Shikarpuri Hindus also exists and is doing a prosperous trade. They have built their own shop, and a small guest house. The above facts are brought to notice to show that every facility exists for the Indian trader—no matter what his caste may be—to come to Seistan. He has nothing to fear from the desert country now bridged over by the Nushki route, and when he reaches Seistan he will find a community of his fellow and caste country-men to give him a welcome. The idea that Seistan is a place to be avoided on account of its lack of civilised institutions is one which has no doubt acted hitherto as a deterrent to Indian traders.

It is hoped that the above remarks may tend to disabuse their minds of this idea.

The Indian trader, however, at present works at a slight disadvantage in Seistan. In spite of the excellent organisation of the Customs Department, the Seistani trader seems to be able to evade the Customs cordon on the Afghan-Seistan border to the North-East of Seistan and to pass by a shorter route through Afghan territory to Nushki. He returns by the same way. The Indian merchant passing by the prescribed route pays import and export dues. In addition to this the Seistani generally owns his own transport and has no cost of transport to pay. There is every hope, however, that, with the rapid development of the Customs organisation, the Seistani trader will soon find himself deprived of the advantage above referred to.

Facilities for transport into the interior from Seistan:—It is difficult to get camel transport in Seistan, and mules do not exist.

The local camel, obtainable in small numbers only, is the small Baluch type which carries an average weight of $3\frac{1}{2}$ Indian maunds (28 lbs.).

Caravans from India, therefore, destined for Khorasan should, if possible, engage Quetta camels for the through journey and not rely on a change of transport in Seistan. The latter also if procurable, would mean adjusting the 5-maund load of the Indian camel to suit the smaller and inferior Baluchi animal. In the Kaimat it is easier to get transport. It is also easier to obtain transport in the spring and autumn than in the summer and winter for the Khorasan market.

Climate.—The climate of Seistan is dry and healthy. The heat in the summer is terrific, but is generally tempered by the Seistan wind which blows for 120 days. The hot weather lasts from May till the middle of September. The hottest months are generally May and September. The admirable qualities of the drinking water of Seistan which comes from the Helmund River are renowned. Good drinking water can also generally be found 10 feet below the surface of the ground.

In the winter the climate is bracing and cold. Last winter the thermometer once fell to zero; but this is said to be exceptional. Yet among the ruined towns in the vicinity traces of ancient ice pits are to be seen.

Wages.—The Seistani is a very good labourer. Before the advent of European Consulates in Seistan, no fixed scale of wages existed. The scale of wages now obtaining is—

For Labourers—Adults	6 Shahis or about 3d. per day
For Mason- and skilled workmen	2 to 4 krans or about 9d. to 1-6d per day.
Boys are paid somewhat less.

Brickmakers charge from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 krans per 1,000 for sun-dried bricks, or about 7d. to 9d. per 1,000. Building with sun-dried bricks is cheap and in summer a labourer works from 8 to 9 hours a day.

Land can be purchased without difficulty. The present price is 5 krans (Re. 1-1-0) per Persian zireh (about 41 inches).

Agriculture—Land in Seistan is the property of the Crown. The local Governor appoints Katkhudas or headmen of villages who pay certain sums of money for the appointment. The land of each village is divided into "pagaoes." The land which can be ploughed by two oxen in a year is called a "pagao." The distribution of "pagaoes" among the villagers rests with the Katkhuda.

The following crops are produced in Seistan: Wheat, Barley, Mash (a kind of Dal), Jowari (maize), Cotton, Opium, Tobacco, Melons.

Wheat, Barley and Opium are sown from about the end of August to October. Barley and Opium are reaped about the beginning of April and Wheat about the end of that month. Cotton is sown in the beginning of June and reaped in the beginning of September.

The out-put of wheat, barley is about 2 to 1.

The surplus grain is exported to the following places: Kain, Sarhad, Narmashir and Kirman. The other local crops are generally consumed locally with the exception of Melon seeds which command a good price in Kirman.

The "threshing-floor" is divided as under:—

Government share	$\frac{1}{3}$
Cultivator's "	$\frac{2}{3}$

The cultivator has to give a certain amount of his share to the following:—

The Headman of the village, Patwari, crop-watchers, coin thrasher, Governor's Agent, Ironsmith, Carpenters, etc.

The approximate revenue of Seistan for the past year is said to have been 65,000 toman or about £10,762.

Trades and Manufactures.—Blacksmiths, Carpenters, Weavers, Potter-, Shoemakers, Numdah lat-n makers, Dyers, Mat-maker, etc., are to be found in Seistan; but their work is of a same old crude type.

Weavers are of two kinds, vis., Carpet weavers, who are generally Baluchi women, and coarse cloth weavers who are Seistanis proper. The number of carpets made in Seistan annually is stated to be about 6,000. They are of a much coarser quality than the Birjand and Meshed carpets.

There are very few permanent shoe-makers in Seistan. Those to be found are generally itinerant Kainis.

The Persian Customs Department.—The Persian Customs Department in Seistan came under European supervision in May of the year under report. The new fixed tariff, an ad valorem duty of 5% on all imports and exports did not find favour with the Seistani traders, with whom anything in the way of supervision and organisation was something entirely new, while the payment of an import as well as an export duty was regarded as a distinct injustice. To a certain extent this feeling prevented many local Seistani traders from going to Quetta. Our Indian merchants very soon fell in with the new arrangements. All custom dues have to be paid and original invoices produced in Seistan at the capital Nasratabad. No verification or payment of dues is demanded before reaching the capital. Caravans are escorted from the first Customs post on leaving British territory as far as the capital.

The importation of the following is strictly forbidden :—

Firearms, Ammunition, Aniline dyes, Books or photographs of an obscene nature.

There are as yet no Russian traders in Seistan, though a few Agents for the sale of Russian prints, cloths, sugar and ironware exist. It will be seen from the accompanying tables that about 7 per cent. of the goods imported into Seistan for local consumption were Russian manufactures, while Indian goods imported came to about 80 per cent.

Birjand Imports.—Of the Indian merchandise imported into Birjand, 60 per cent. reached there by the Bunder Abbas route, while only 11½ per cent. came by the Nushki route, 15½ per cent. came from Meshed (mostly Russian prints, kerosine oil, mole-skin), and 9 per cent. from Afghanistan.

Birjand Exports.—Of the merchandise exported from Birjand about 80 per cent. went to 9 per cent. via Nushki.

10 per cent. via Bunder Abbas.

Meshed (mostly carpets, Indian cotton cloth) 19 per cent. went to India and about 1 per cent. to Afghanistan.

During the year under report the import and export trade with Afghanistan is said to have very greatly fallen off. This is said to have been due to the unwillingness of the Afghan traders to adopt the new customs organisation.

Ghi is produced in small quantities in the Kainat, mainly in the following places—Julga-i-Tabbas, Awaz, Dorch, and Lanoh. By far the greater amount is said to be produced from the Governor of Birjand's own sheep.

The price of Ghi in Birjand was, for the year under report, Rs. 20 per Indian maund (80lbs.) or about 4d. per lb.

Wool.—No wool is allowed to be exported from Kain, it being all reserved for the local Carpet manufacture.

Kandil.—This is a local product which is said to command an excellent sale in Karachi. It is a kind of pitch or resinous gum much used for ships.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 22nd January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has again been very little rain over the greater part of India, but as was the case last week, the weather has been feebly disturbed over the central parts of the country where a shallow depression formed and thence travelled eastward through the Satpuras and Bengal. In consequence of this depression rain was received at Ranchi and Hazaribagh on the 16th, at Chaibassa, Ranchi and Balasore on the 17th, at Saugor Island, Calcutta, Burdwan, Chaibassa, Ranchi, Hazaribagh and Palasore on the 18th, at Saugor Island, Jessore, Dibrugarh, Sambalpur, Chaibassa and Palasore on the 19th, and at Barisal, Saugor Island, Calcutta, Sambalpur and Balasore on the 20th. This rainfall was generally light or moderate, but falls of over 1 inch in 24 hours were recorded during this period at Dibrugarh, Ranchi, Balasore and Sambalpur. The weather has been disturbed during the week over Persia, Baluchistan and Kashmir, and light rain or snow has been frequently received over these areas, but has not at any time extended into North-West India. Light showers were reported along the East Coast on the 23rd, but with this exception the only rainfall received over India throughout the week was that over Bengal and the East Satpuras between the 16th and the 20th.

The following table shows that rain was confined during the week to Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the Burdwan sub-division, the Simla sub-division, Baluchistan, the Ranchi sub-division, the Madura sub-division and the two divisions of the East Coast; the total amounts received were unimportant except in the Calcutta, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions, where the normal rainfall was exceeded. Except in these sub-divisions, the weather was actually or practically rainless throughout the week.

The seasonal excess has been increased in the Burdwan, Calcutta, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions and the seasonal deficiency has been increased over North-West and Central India, but otherwise there has been nominating change in the seasonal condition of rainfall.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 17th January, 1903.

Madras.—No rain. Irrigation supplies are generally sufficient except in parts of Ganjam, Anantapur, and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally in fair condition. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen, but in some districts they are stationary or have risen for certain grains.

Bombay.—There was no rain during the week. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and Thar and Parkar. The harvesting of the autumn crops is completed in Ahmedabad, is almost over in Sholapur and Kanara, and continues in parts of Surat, Khandesh, and Belgaum. Threshing is almost completed in Colaba and continues in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, the Deccan and Dharwar. Spring sowing still continues in parts of Belgaum and Kanara. The standing crops have been damaged by rats, locusts, or insects in parts of Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, and Nasik; by cloudy weather in parts of Karachi, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Broach and Dharwar; and by the recent rainfall in parts of Broach and Sholapur. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Hyderabad and the Upper Sindh Frontier but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Cotton is in good condition in Ahmedabad, parts of Broach and Wadhwan; in fair condition in parts of Satara, Belgaum and Dharwar; but is slightly damaged by cloudy weather or recent rainfall in parts of Broach, Surat, Bijapur, and Dharwar. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach and Baroda. The fodder-supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and is generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts, risen in four districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were:—Ahmedabad 38, Bijapur 48.

The daily average numbers on relief were:—BRITISH DISTRICTS:—In poor-houses, 89; on village relief, 1,069; total, 1,158.

Bengal.—Light showers are reported from Chota Nagpur and all the Divisions of Bengal proper, except Rajshahi and from the districts of Gya, Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack and Balasore. Rain is still needed for the standing crops in Nadia, Pabna, Patna, Gya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Monghyr and Sonthal Parganas. Prospects are generally good. The harvesting of winter rice is approaching completion; threshing is in progress. Poppy is promising. There is no want of fodder and water. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in ten and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—A few cents of rain fell in four districts, but more is generally required. The irrigation of the spring crops and the pressing of sugarcane are in progress. Poppy is flourishing and is being weeded in places. Slight damage has been caused by frost to the standing crops in a few districts, but prospects are otherwise favourable. Supplies and fodder are ample. Prices continue to show a tendency to rise.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. The sowing of spring crops is finished. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur and Amritsar. The condition and prospects of the spring crop are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on dry lands are withering for want of rain and throughout the province rain is now badly wanted. The sugarcane crop has suffered from frost in Jullundur, Amritsar and Sialkot. Crops are being damaged by caterpillars in parts of Ferozepore; and by white-ants in parts of Mianwali. Locusts have appeared in parts of Mooltan and are doing some damage to the crops. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Amritsar, Sialkot, Mianwali, and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Sialkot. The prices of food-grains are generally rising in Umballa, Jullundur, Amritsar, Shahpur, Rawalpindi, Mianwali and Mooltan.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is now cloudy and promises rain which is badly wanted everywhere. The condition of irrigated crops is average, but unirrigated crops are beginning to wither away. The stocks of food-grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable, but is scarce and dear. The canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices are rising owing to the rains holding off and to the large exports to Afghanistan where famine rates are prevailing. Prices:—Wheat 13½ and 13¾, gram 16½ and 18½, maize 17½ and 20 seers, per rupee in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. In Lower Burma reaping of paddy is approaching completion, and threshing and winnowing are general. Crops are threshing out very light in Tharrawaddy and in Myaungmya. One-sixth of the crops have failed owing to the want of rain and the estimate is reported to be below normal in most districts. In Upper Burma the reaping of main paddy is still going on. Threshing is progressing in the Ruby Mines district and Yamethin. Reaping of sesamum is completed in Lower Chindwin. The standing crops are generally fair. In Pakoku crops on high lands are failing for want of rain and in Minbu crop failures are reported to be fairly numerous. The price of paddy has risen slightly in five and fallen in four districts.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cloudy. There was no rain except 3 cents in Wardha and 9 cents in Narshingpur. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are practically completed, but the harvesting of juar (giant millet) and other minor crops and picking of cotton continue in a few districts. The winter crops are generally in good condition, but the cloudy weather and insects have caused some damage in most districts to crops other than wheat and linseed. The damage by frost to til in Narsinghpur varies from 30 to 90 per cent. and in Hoshangabad to 75 per cent. Tur (Cajan pea) has been seriously damaged in most districts by frost and fungoid disease; in Jubbulpore the late sown wheat on light soil requires rain. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have slightly fluctuated. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—wheat 18; gram 20; rice 17½; and juar 29. The highest prices are:—wheat 10; gram 10; rice 8½; and juar 18½. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—relief workers (Public Works Department), adults 13,986; children 2,229; total 16,215. In poor-houses:—adults 33; children 19; total 52. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved):—adults 3,159; children 1,320; total 4,479. Total on all forms of relief 20,746. The number of Public Works Department Camps open is 11.

Assam.—Rain has fallen in the Surma Valley and Upper Assam. More rain is wanted for the standing crops in Sylhet. Harvesting of late rice is nearly finished. Pruning of tea; pressing of sugarcane; and gathering of mustard and pulse are in progress. The out-turn of late rice and sugarcane is generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup; of pulse it is poor in Nowgong, elsewhere fair to good. The prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet; fair in Darrang and Sibsagar; but poor in other districts. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Sylhet, and Tezpur 14; Gauhati 13; Dhubri, Nowgong, and Sibsagar 12, and 1 librugarh 11½ seers, per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool and cloudy. Cotton-picking and reaping of juar continue. The winter crops are growing satisfactorily, except wheat, tur, and gram which are being damaged by insects in parts of three districts. Preparation of land for the monsoon crops is in progress in parts of two districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar has risen in the Jalgaon taluq; elsewhere it is almost steady.

Hyderabad.—There was no rain during week. The autumn harvest continues in a few talukas. The early rice harvest is nearing completion. The standing spring crops are in fairly good condition and the harvest has begun in some talukas. The winter rice sowings continue. Prices—wheat 7½; rice 8½; and juar 25½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—Agricultural operations and standing crops remain as reported last week. Cotton has been injured by frost in Kishengarh and Kotah. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food-grain in seers per rupee was—Kotah 36; the highest price—Sirohi 14½. Six hundred and fifty persons are on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—No rain fell during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The crops are generally good but have been slightly injured by frost in parts of Gwalior, Baghelkhand and Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand and low in Malwa. Average prices:—26 to 38½ in Gwalior, 33½ in Bhopal, 20 to 27½ in Bundelkhand, 33 in Malwa, and 32 to 40 in Bhopal. The condition of opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal and good in Malwa. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and chilly except on the last day of the week when skies were heavily clouded. There has been very little snow. Prices are stationary.

JAMMU.—Rainfall nil. Prices are rising. Wheat is selling from 13 to 20; and maize 20 to 26 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is unsatisfactory. Fodder is growing scarce. Rain is badly wanted.

Nepal.—Rainfall nil. The weather is frosty and very cold. The standing crop of wheat is doing well. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

RESOLUTION.

PUBLIC.

The 30th January 1903.

No. 201—207.—The need of an Imperial Library in India which should be open to the use of the public has for some time past engaged the attention of the Governor General in Council, who has been impressed by the limited character of the facilities for research which are available to the student in this country. The Imperial Library in the Civil Secretariat Buildings at Calcutta, formed a few years ago from the different Departmental Libraries, has proved of some service in this direction, and the marked increase in recent years in the number of persons making use of it affords satisfactory evidence of the appreciation which would be extended to an institution worthy of the name of an Imperial Library. With the approval of the Secretary of State the Governor General in Council has accordingly decided to establish such a library at Calcutta, a suitable building has recently been acquired for its accommodation, and the books and shelves of the Calcutta Public Library which had long ceased to fulfil the intentions of its founders have been purchased from the proprietors. These arrangements were confirmed and validated by the Imperial Library Act, 1902 (I of 1902). The existing Imperial Library will form the nucleus of the new institution, which will be provided with Reading Rooms, public and private, as at the British Museum and Bodleian Libraries. It is intended that it should be a library of reference, a working place for students, and a repository of material for the future historians of India, in which, so far as possible, every work written about India at any time can be seen and read.

2. The Rules appended to this Resolution have been framed to give effect to the views of the Government of India in establishing the library. The control of the institution will remain with the Government of India, but its internal management will be delegated to a Council, with the Librarian as its Secretary, and His Excellency the Governor General in Council has been pleased to appoint the following gentlemen to be the first members of this body :—

The Honourable Mr. T. Raleigh, C.S.I.	Chairman.
The Honourable Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee	} Members.
The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department
Mr. M. Finucane, C.S.I., Commissioner, Presidency Division

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the officers named above and to the Government of Bengal and the High Court, Calcutta, for information.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

IMPERIAL LIBRARY RULES.

I. The Library will be open to any person who holds a reading ticket issued to him by the Librarian in accordance with such regulations as may from time to time be made by the Council.

II. Reading tickets will not be issued to any person under 18 years of age. They will remain in force until cancelled by the Council and will not be transferable. Any person who infringes these rules or any regulations made by the Council for the internal management of the Library will be liable to have his ticket suspended by the Librarian pending a reference to the Council.

III. Subject to the provisions of rule IV, no book or other document shall be taken out by any person except with the permission of the Librarian to be given in accordance with any general or special orders made by the Council in this behalf.

IV. Any of the proprietors of the former Calcutta Public Library shall be entitled, when resident in Calcutta, to take out books from among those transferred from that Library to the Imperial Library, subject to the restriction that he shall not take out more than six works (up to a limit of 12 volumes) at a time.

V. Books and other documents that have been taken out are liable to recall at any time; but if not so recalled they may be kept for a space of one month, which may be extended by the Librarian at his discretion.

VI. The Library will be open to the public from 10 A.M. to 7 P.M. on working days, and from 2 to 5 on such Sundays and holidays as the Council may determine.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 30th January, 1903 :—

NO. 1 OF 1903.

A Bill to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant Probates of Wills and Letters of Administration having effect throughout British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant probates of wills and letters of administration having effect throughout British India; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Probate and Administration Act, 1903.
Short title.

X of 1865. 2. In the Indian Succession Act, 1865, the following amendments shall be made, namely :—
Amendment of sections 187, 242, 242A., 244, 246 and 250, Act X, 1865.

(1) In section 187, for the words "within the Province" the words "in British India," and for the words "under the one hundred and eightieth section" the words "with the will, or with a copy of an authenticated copy of the will, annexed," shall respectively be substituted.

(2) In section 242, for the proviso the following proviso shall be substituted, namely :—

" Provided that probates and letters of administration granted—

(b) by a District Judge, where the deceased at the time of his death had his fixed place of abode situate within the jurisdiction of such Judge, and such Judge certifies that the value of the property and estate affected beyond the limits of the Province does not exceed ten thousand rupees, shall, unless otherwise directed by the grant, have like effect throughout the whole of British India."

(3) For section 242A the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

V of 1881.

3. In the Probate and Administration Act, Amendment of sec- 1881, the following amend-tions 59, 60, 62, 64 and ments shall be made, name-
69, Act V, 1881. ly :—

(1) In section 59, for the proviso the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

"Provided that probates and letters of administration granted—

- (a) by a High Court established by Royal Charter, or
- (b) by the Chief Court of the Punjab or of Lower Burma, or
- (c) by a District Judge, where the deceased at the time of his death had his fixed place of abode situate within the jurisdiction of such Judge, and such Judge certifies that the value of the property affected beyond the limits of the Province does not exceed ten thousand rupees,

shall, unless otherwise directed by the grant, have like effect throughout the whole of British India."

(2) For section 60 the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

"60. (1) Where probate or letters of administration has or have been granted by a Court with the effect referred to in the proviso to section 59, the Registrar or such other officer as the High Court or Chief Court which made the grant, or to which the District Judge making the grant is subordinate, appoints in this behalf, shall send to each of the other High Courts or Chief Courts, empowered to make such grants a certificate to the following effect, namely :—

"I, A. B., Registrar [or as the case may be] of the High Court of Judicature at _____ [or as the case may be], hereby certify that on the _____ day of _____ the High Court of Judicature [or Chief Court, or District Judge] at _____ [or as the case may be] granted probate of the will [or letters of administration of the estate] of C. D., late of _____, deceased, to E. F. of _____ and G. H. of _____, and that such probate [or letters] has [or have] effect over all the property of the deceased throughout the whole of British India ; and such certificate shall be filed by the Court receiving the same.

(2) Where any portion of the assets has been stated by the petitioner, as hereinafter provided in sections 62 and 64, to be situate within the jurisdiction of a District Judge in another Province, the Registrar or other officer required to send the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) shall send a copy thereof to such District Judge, and such copy shall be filed by the District Judge receiving the same."

(3) To sections 62 and 64, respectively, the following paragraph shall be added, namely :—

"Where the application is to the District Judge and any portion of the assets likely to come to the petitioner's hands is situate in another Province, the petition shall further state the amount of such assets in each Province and the District Judges within whose jurisdiction such assets are situate."

(4) To section 63 the following paragraph shall be added, namely :—

"Where any portion of the assets has been stated by the petitioner to be situate within the jurisdiction of a District Judge in another Province, the District Judge issuing the same shall cause a copy of the citation to be sent to such other District Judge, who shall publish the same in the same manner as if it were a citation issued by himself."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant probates of wills and letters of administration having effect throughout British India. As the law at present stands, probates and letters of administration having effect throughout British India can be granted only by a High Court or a Chief Court, and this restriction has been felt to be a hardship to the relatives of persons dying in up-country stations. It is proposed therefore to attach to the grant of probate or letters of administration by a District Judge the same territorial currency as that which is attached to a grant made by a High Court or Chief Court, but subject to the restrictions (1) that the deceased at the time of his death had his fixed place of abode situate within the jurisdiction of the District Judge, and (2) that the Judge certifies that the value of the property affected, beyond the limits of his Province, does not exceed ten thousand rupees.

2. Sufficient safeguards against injustice resulting from the proposed legislation appear to be afforded by section 263 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), and section 86 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881 (Act V of 1881), under which every order made by a District Judge in the matter of probate or administration is appealable to the High Court; and also by the fact that a grant of probate merely perfects the representative title of an executor to the property which belonged to the deceased and over which the testator had a disposing power, but does not confer any title to property which the testator had no right to dispose of.

to make, the Governor General in Council may appoint the required number of members of the Committee of his own motion without such recommendation.

(3) Whenever any member appointed either on the recommendation of any body or authority referred to in sub-section (2), or in default of such recommendation, dies, resigns, leaves British India or becomes incapable of acting as a member of the Committee, the Governor General in Council may, in his discretion, on the recommendation of such body or authority, or in default of such recommendation, appoint another person to be a member in his stead.

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 102 (1).]

(4) No act done by the Tea Cess Committee shall be questioned on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in, or any defect in the constitution of, the Committee.

[Cf. Act VIII of 1894, s. 4.]

5. (1) At the close of each month, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Collector shall pay the proceeds of the tea cess, after deducting the expenses of collection (if any), to the Tea Cess Committee.

[Cf. Ceylon Ordinance of 1894, s. 3.]

(2) The said proceeds shall be applied by the Committee towards meeting the cost of such measures as the Committee may consider it advisable to take for pushing the sale and increasing the consumption of Indian tea in India and elsewhere.

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 142.]

6. (1) The Tea Cess Committee shall keep accounts of all money received and expended under section 5.

[Cf. ib., s. 143 (1).]

(2) Such accounts shall be examined and audited annually by auditors appointed in this behalf by the Governor General in Council; and such auditors may disallow any item which has,

in their opinion, been expended out of the proceeds of the tea cess otherwise than as directed by or under this Act.

7. (1) The Governor General in Council may, after previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) All such rules shall be published in the Gazette of India.

8. 9. Sections 2 to 7 shall remain in force only until the thirty-first day of March, 1908:

Time during which sections 2 to 7 are to remain in force.

Provided that the Governor General in Council may, on the recommendation of the Tea Cess Committee, declare, by notification in the Gazette of India, that the said sections shall continue in force for any further period specified in such notification.

10. If any proceeds of the tea cess remain unexpended when sections 2 to 7 cease to be in force, they shall vest in His Majesty.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to provide for the levy of a small cess on Indian tea exported from British India, with the object of creating a fund for pushing the sale and increasing the consumption of such tea. It is proposed to entrust the administration of the fund to a special Committee, consisting of members representing the tea interest and recommended by local mercantile bodies. Those interested in the tea industry are practically unanimous in recommending that the proposed legislation should be undertaken.

2. The opportunity afforded by the present Bill has been taken to make an amendment in section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894 (VIII of 1894), which will have the effect of extending the proposed tea cess to exports to foreign territory by land.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to authorise the levy of dues on vessels for the provision of lights on the coast of the Province of Madras. An extensive and costly scheme of lighthouse construction and illumination has been undertaken, and it is proposed to meet the cost by levying dues on vessels, of the burden of thirty tons and upwards, deriving benefit from the lights. The maximum rates at which the dues may be levied are specified in the schedule annexed to the Bill, and are subject to reconsideration. The rates at which the dues will be levied will be fixed by the Government, subject to these maxima as ultimately settled, and will be so fixed from time to time as to meet the interest on capital outlay, maintenance charges, and a small sinking fund charge.

The procedure clauses of the Bill are based on the provisions of the Burma Coast-lights Act, 1879 (IX of 1879).

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 29th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather over India has been much more disturbed during the week under review than for many weeks past. A large double storm appeared over the North-West Frontier on the 22nd and 23rd and thence the disturbed conditions drifted slowly eastward across Northern India, occasioning snow on the hills and rain over the plains. Over the West Himalayan region general rain was received from the 23rd to the 26th, when it fell off and only light scattered showers were reported on the 27th and 28th. In the West Gangetic Plain there was general light rain on the 25th and light scattered showers on the 23rd, 24th, 26th and 27th. In the North-West Dry Area showers were reported on the 23rd, 24th, 26th and 27th. Advancing eastward, rain commenced in the East Himalayan region on the 24th and continued to fall lightly during the 25th and 26th, when it practically ceased. It commenced in the East Gangetic Plain on the 26th and continued during the 27th, while in Assam and Bengal the fall began on the 27th and continued during the 28th and 29th. The central parts of India, the Peninsula and Burma were practically unaffected by these unsettled conditions, though scattered light showers were received in the Central India Plateau on the 24th and 25th, and Chaibassa, Hazaribagh and False Point reported light showers on the 27th and 28th.

In Persia the weather was unsettled and rainy throughout the week and in Kashmir, so far as information has been received, moderately heavy snow has fallen.

The following table shows the amount of the week's rainfall in the different divisions and sub-divisions. Rain averaging 0.1 inch or more in amount was received during the week over Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the Patna sub-division, the West Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain, the North-West Dry Area, Baluchistan, the Jaipur sub-division, the Calicut sub-division and the Madura sub-division, the average actual rainfall ranging from 2.67 inches in the Simla sub-division to 0.10 inch in the Jaipur and Calicut sub-divisions. Over the remainder of India the weather has been actually or practically rainless. During the week the rainfall has been in marked excess of the normal in the Bahraich, Simla and Ludhiana sub-divisions, and has been about normal or below the normal elsewhere.

The week's rainfall has, to a certain extent, diminished the seasonal deficiency existing over Northern India, more especially in the Simla and Ludhiana sub-divisions, but a considerable defect still prevails in the seasonal rainfall over the greater part of Burma, Assam, Northern India and the Central India Plateau.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 5th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather has been feebly disturbed over North-West India during the week under review. A slight storm entered North-West India on January 30th and a second but very feeble storm appeared over the Indus Valley on February 3rd. The first storm gave light showers to parts of the North-West Dry Area and of the West Gangetic Plain, and general rain and snow to the West Himalayas on the 30th and 31st. After the 31st the rain ceased, except on the hills, where light snow continued to fall until February 2nd. The largest amounts reported during this period were 0.90 inch at Chakrata, 0.85 inch at Mussooree and 0.57 inch at Simla. The second storm gave light snow on the 4th and 5th to Kashmir and the Simla and Murree Hills, but occasioned no rain on the plains.

On January 30th rain began to fall in Orissa and on the 31st a depression was shown over the head of the Bay. This storm passed eastward into the Bay and during its existence rain was received as follows:—on the 30th at Cuttack and False Point, on the 31st at Chittagong, Barisal, Saugor Island, Jessore, Balasore, False Point and Cuttack, and on the 1st at Bhamo, Chittagong and Barisal. Light local showers were also received during the week in the Upper Assam Valley and in Tenasserim. In Persia the weather was fine throughout the week.

The following table shows the amount of the week's rainfall in the different divisions of India. Rain averaging 0.1 inch or more in amount was received during the week over the Burma Coast, Bengal, the Simla sub-division, the Lahore sub-division, Baluchistan and the Cuttack sub-division, while the remainder of India was actually or practically rainless. The week's rainfall was in excess over the Burma Coast, Bengal and the Cuttack sub-division. The average actual rainfall of the Narayanganj sub-division exceeded 1 inch and the seasonal variation for that area has changed largely, but in other parts of the country the seasonal condition is practically unaltered.

Prices have fallen slightly in most districts, but in some districts they are stationary or have risen for certain grains.

Bombay.—There was slight rain during the week in parts of Sindh. More rain is needed in parts of Karachi and Larkana. The standing crops have been damaged by rats or insects in parts of Nasik and Ahmedabad and by locusts or frost in parts of Hyderabad, Larkana and Broach. They are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops has been almost completed in Sholapur and continues in parts of Guzerat, Khandesh, Belgaum and Dharwar. Threshing has been completed in Thana, is almost over in Colaba and continues in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara and Dharwar. The reaping of spring crops has been commenced in Poona, Sholapur, Bijapur, Belgaum and Baroda. The price of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters was Bijapur 51.

The daily average numbers on relief were:—BRITISH DISTRICTS—Bijapur, on village relief, 107.

Bengal—Rain fell during the week in every district except Bankura, Jalpaiguri, Shahabad, Puri, Ranchi, Palamau and Singhbhum. The fall was heavy in East Bengal. The rain was beneficial to the standing crops. More rain is wanted in Nadia, Pubna, Faridpur, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Malda and Hazaribagh. Harvesting of winter rice is almost over; threshing continues. Poppy is doing well. The outturn of sugarcane is estimated at 92 per cent. of a normal crop. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in six districts, fallen in eleven and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—Rain has fallen throughout the provinces with the exception of eight districts. Dehra Dun, Garhwal and Meerut have received over two inches. Rain is now chiefly required in Aligarh, Allahabad and Banda. Sugarcane pressing is in progress. The ground is being prepared in parts for autumn crops. Poppy is flourishing and is being weeded. Slight damage has been done to spring crops by hail in Dehra Dun. Prospects are generally favourable. Food and fodder are sufficient. Prices are almost stationary.

Punjab.—Rain has fallen in all districts except Hissar. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Rawalpindi and Mooltan, and falling in Umballa and Amritsar. The prices of other food grains are generally unchanged. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur and Amritsar. Sowings of extra spring crops have commenced in some districts. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. The standing crops have been benefited by the recent rain, but more rain is wanted for unirrigated crops. Caterpillars have damaged the standing crops in parts of Ferozepore. The crops have also been damaged by locusts in parts of Ferozepore and Mooltan. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in parts of Ferozepore, Lahore, Amritsar, Mianwali and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Sialkot.

North-West Frontier Province.—The rainfall was half an inch in Hazara and one quarter in Dera Ismail Khan. Prospects have improved in Dera Ismail Khan, but more rain is still wanted there. The standing crops on irrigated and unirrigated lands promise well. Fodder is procurable. Canals are running well in Peshawar. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are falling. Prices—wheat $13\frac{1}{2}$ and $12\frac{1}{2}$, gram $16\frac{1}{2}$ and $16\frac{1}{2}$ and maize $18\frac{1}{2}$ and 20 seers in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma.—The rainfall was very light in North Burma. Reaping of paddy continues in one or two districts. Threshing and winnowing are in progress. Cultivation of dry weather paddy is in progress. Reaping of wheat and gram crops in Sagaing and of crops in alluvial tracts of Mandalay has commenced. The winter paddy harvest in Mandalay is estimated at 12 annas in irrigated tracts, and 2 annas in unirrigated tracts. In Upper Chindwin the crop is estimated at one fourth of the average. Standing pulse and miscellaneous crops in Upper Burma are fair. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon, Mandalay, and Thayetmyo and has fallen in Pakokku and Tavoy. The outturn of sugarcane is good in Lakhimpur, bad in Cachar, Kamrup and Nowgong, and fair in other districts. The outturn of pulse is fair except in Cachar and Nowgong. The prospects of mustard are fair in Sylhet and Sibsagar, but are poor in other districts. Fodder is insufficient in parts of Cachar and the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia hills. During the action at Erego, on 6th October 1902, when some of the Companies had retired, Lieutenant-Colonel Cobbe was left by himself in front of the line, with a Maxim gun. Without assistance he brought in the Maxim, and worked it at a most critical time. He then went out under an extremely hot fire from the enemy about 20 yards in front of him, and from his own men (who had retired) about the same distance behind, and succeeded in carrying in a wounded Orderly. Colonel Swayne, who was in command of the Force, personally witnessed this officer's conduct, which he describes as most gallant.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 12th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather has been quiet over India during the week under review. No storm of any consequence has appeared over the Indian area and the only rainfall reported has occurred as light scattered showers. Thus, on the 6th light rain was reported from Tavoy, Allahabad, Jubbulpore, Seoni and Chanda; on the 7th from Mergui, Dhubri, Allahabad and Lucknow; on the 9th from Toungoo, Dibrugarh and Sibsagar; on the 11th from Colombo, Trincomalee, Dibrugarh and Sibsagar and on the 12th from Mussooree, Chakrata, Simla, Murree, Cherat, Dera Ismail Khan, Colombo, Trincomalee and Tinnevely, while on the 8th and 10th there was no rain over India.

The following table shows that appreciable rain, amounting to 0·10 inch or more, was received during the week over the Burma Coast, the Brahmaputra Valley, Baluchistan and the East Coast (South) divisions and the Calicut sub-division, but that over the whole of the remainder of India the weather during the week was actually or practically rainless.

This practically rainless week has increased the seasonal deficiency prevailing over Northern and North-Western India and the Central India Plateau and diminished the seasonal excess prevailing over other parts of India.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 7th February, 1903.

Madras.—No rain. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam, the Deccan and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally risen in the Central districts, but have fallen or are stationary elsewhere.

Bombay.—There was very slight rain during the week in parts of Karachi. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur, Hyderabad, and Thar and Parkar. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts or frost in parts of Hyderabad, the Upper Sind Frontier and Larkana; by rats or insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Nasik; and by cloudy weather in parts of Dharwar. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Larkana and the Upper Sind Frontier, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops is almost completed in Sholapur and continues in parts of Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Ahmednagar, Poona, Belgaum and Dharwar. Threshing is almost over in Colaba and Satara and continues in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sind Frontier, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona and Dharwar. Reaping of spring crops has commenced in parts of Ratnagiri, Sholapur, Satara, Bijapur, Belgaum and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Wadhwan and in parts of Broach and Surat; it is poor in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar; and in fair condition elsewhere. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach, Belgaum and Bijapur. Preparation of lands for next season has commenced in parts of Satara, Nasik and Belgaum. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is healthy and adequate. The water supply is generally sufficient. Prices have fallen in one district, risen in three districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and the prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. Relief operations closed.

Bengal.—There was no rain except a scanty fall in some parts of Khulna and Backergunge. Prospects are generally good, but rain is needed in Nadia, Pubna, Tipperah, Patna, Purnea and Malda. Threshing of winter rice is approaching completion. Poppy is doing well and lancing has commenced. The outturn of wheat is estimated at 92, and that of late cotton at 85 per cent. of a normal crop. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in ten districts, fallen in seven, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—A sprinkling of rain is reported in eight districts. Rain is needed in Allahabad, Muttra, Agra, Mirzapur and in the Bundelkhand districts. The irrigation and weeding of spring crops and of poppy continue. Poppy is flowering in places. The harvesting of mustard and peas, and sowing of sugarcane have commenced in parts. The standing crops are in good condition. Slight damage by frost is reported in Meerut, Rae Bareilly, and Partabgarh; and by insects as well as by frost in Hamirpur. Prospects are good. Markets are well supplied and fodder is ample. Prices are generally stationary.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. Sowings of extra spring crops have commenced in some districts. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur, Lahore and Amritsar. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. Unirrigated crops are withering for want of rain in some districts. Crops are being damaged by caterpillars in parts of Ferozepore. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in Mianwali and Lahore, and in parts of Ferozepore, Amritsar and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in the Amritsar district. The price of wheat is rising in Hissar, Amballa, Jullundur and Amritsar; falling in Lahore, Shahpur and Rawalpindi. The prices of other food-grains are also rising slightly in some districts.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week and it is now badly wanted, especially in Dera Ismail Khan. The prospects of the standing crops so far are good, but depend upon more rain. Fodder is procurable. Canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices show a tendency to rise.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Threshing and winnowing of paddy are still in progress. Ploughing for early wet weather paddy has commenced in Mandalay. Transplanting of dry weather paddy is completed in parts. The standing miscellaneous crops are fair. The price of paddy has fallen in Mandalay and Thayetmyo, and risen in Yamethin, Pakokku, Amherst, Akyab, Bassein, Henzada and Myaungmya.

Central Provinces.—Light showers of rain have fallen in the interior of the Mandla district; elsewhere there was no rain, but it has occasionally been cloudy. The winter crops are generally in good condition. Last week's rain was beneficial to the crops in the Sihora and Murwara tahsils of the Jubbulpore district, but more was wanted.
